Falling from the...
Sky now, the sign of the burning sun
Into the face of the evil one
Nowhere to hide now we're on the run
Right before your eyes
We're watching, we're waiting, our souls are forsaken
The sign of the warriors, that evil will rise

Through the fire and the flames
Breaking the chains
Into the night we go
Torment and pain
Trample the slain
Such as the death we know

Our steel will shine forever through the night and blinding rain
We'll see them face their fears it's time to rise again, in everlasting pain!

Fly free for what we believe
One thousand hearts bleeding, the eternal dream
Feel me, the touch we all need
So silently now they will kneel
Cry for eternity!

So now the fallen will live again
We'll feel the pain burn inside of them
Remember now what you feel again, deep down inside
Still cursing, still crawling, we're endlessly falling
The downfall of mankind, the fate of the sun

Hold your head to the sky, bleeding we cry
Screaming into the night
Fire and pain, beginning again,
Onwards to help me now!

Stand strong we'll live forever raging through the barren lands
Our eyes have seen the sorrow far across the stars
The power in our hearts

Fly free for what we believe
One thousand hearts bleeding, the eternal dream
Feel me, the touch we all need
So silently now they will kneel
Cry for eternity!

Fly far away to the end of our days
The voices of long distant cries
Now we remain in this labyrinth of pain
And so we ride into the night

Our steel will shine forever through the night and
blinding rain
We'll see them face their fears it's time to rise again in
everlasting pain

Fly free for what we believe
One thousand hearts bleeding, the eternal dream
Feel me, the touch we all need
So silently now they will kneel
Cry for eternity!

Cry for eternity!
