Strangers to reason, our bleeding hearts so cold,
Life brings a change it seems, fear will blind the soul,
In the silence one moment alone,
Cast away scattered far on the wastelands.

Sever the soul from the forgotten sickness, and escape
this lie,
Challenge the dream before the long departing, the mindless rhyme,
Whoa, oh, oh,
Hear the burning thunder roll,
Whoa, oh, oh, oh, oh, ohh.

Whoa, oh, oh,
Still lost in a fire storm,
Tonight we feel the past return.

Lost inside the dream, pass the life we'll live forever,
Still the wasted time left burning below,
One thousand shattered voices, lost inside an endless wonder,
Tonight her voice will take me home.

(Chorus)
Shine glorious we run, we stare into the blackened sky,
Save the last command, the virtue blinding,
So far beyond the sun, still blinded with the fire inside,
Once alone again, silence stands for our last journey home.

Our lives intensified, mutation, frustration,
Ever lasting lifetime in the underworld,
We'll travel endlessly, deluded, disjointed,
One man can't understand this sad misery.

Whoa, oh oh oh ohh,
Whoa, oh oh ohh,
Whoa, oh oh oh oh ohh.

They've taken my heart,
They've taken my soul,

And now we stand below insanity.

In time we'll see the past unwind,
Alive, still wander in our fallen land,
One more time we stare into the blackened sky,
For tonight, in our hearts now we feel,
One last time see our destiny revealed.

(Chorus)

Shine glorious we run, we stare into the blackened sky,
Save the last command, the virtue blinding,
So far beyond the sun, still blinded with the fire inside,
Once alone again, silent stares.....

Shine glorious tonight, still blinded by the blackened
sun,
Save the last command, forever rising,
So far beyond they come, still burning with the fire
inside,
Once alone again, silent stares for our last journey
home.

Silent stares for our last journey home.
