Dark clouds and thunderstorms
In the fires and flames we're born
Through darkness, traveling on the night

Hell fires and rain will fall
Time is coming for us all
Our journey for the guiding light

Firelight it is burning so bright in the dark of the night
As we fight for the glory tonight, there's nowhere to hide
On the wings of your destiny, brings all the power you crave
Careful now, if not you then who else will we save?

Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems

March on all night, forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking Break through the walls and use the power of your dreams

Ah, once in a lifetime
Take a chance at the right time, the glory to see
Rise up for the time of your life
Now the time has come for you to be free

In the minds of society
We all live in harmony
Truth is that we all die in vain

You stand for what you believe
I kill for what I conceive
Is there then a title for this game?

Far away in the wastelands of hell, full of torment and pain
Demon knights riding over the heights where fallen are slain
Violent fury of fire, storming death now, no life will prevail

Now you live all your days in the fires of hell

Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems

March on all night, forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your
dreams

Ah, once in a lifetime
Take a chance at the right time, the glory to see
Rise up for the time of your life

Firelight it is burning so bright in the dark of the night
As we fight for the glory tonight, there's nowhere to
crave
Careful now, if not you then who else will we save?

Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems

March on all night, forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your
dreams

Ah, once in a lifetime
Take a chance at the right time, the glory to see
Ah, once in a lifetime
Take a chance at the right time, the glory to see

Rise up for the time of your life
Now the time has come for you
Now the time has come for you
