I hear a distant thunder.
They say, "Bow down, surrender."
Witnessing our demise, and sins of our land.
Why can't we see from under?
Dark reign on thou defenders.
Endlessly torturing the souls without stand.

Fight now!
Let's break the chain.
So strong we must feel the pain.
Forever torn apart from the haunting fears of my heart.

Raging fear from skies above, the fire fuels my veins.
Destruction of humanity, the everlasting flame.
Cast away, no turning back from long forgotten shores.
We'll show no mercy as they fall!
The fire burns inside!

Now prepare for war!

You feel the pain no longer.
Daylight, your heart is stronger.
Don't even sense the burning hunger inside.
Ride out with force and valour in memory forever.
Towards the battering and rise of the tide.

Stand now!
And break the chain.
In unity we feel no pain.
Forever torn apart from the haunting fears of my heart
Raging fear from skies above, the fire fuels my veins.
Destruction of humanity, the everlasting flame.
Cast away, no turning back from long forgotten shores.
We'll show no mercy as they fall!
The fire burns inside!

Now prepare for war!

Looking around, there's no fear in your heart for I know
you will never surrender.
Everyone here raise their eyes to the sky.
Now, with strength and with honour we fight!

Prepare for war!

Raging fear from skies above, the fire fuels my veins.
Destruction of humanity, the everlasting flame.

Rage and fear from skies above, the fire fuels my veins.
Destruction of humanity, the everlasting flame.
Cast away, no turning back from long forgotten shores!
We'll show no mercy as they fall!
We'll show no mercy -- slay them all!
'Til death engulfs us, we won't fall!
The fire burns inside!

Now prepare for war!
