Flying over darkened skies the battle will call
Distant angels crying from the eye of the storm
And the world falls under the starlight Shining from heavens below

Long years of pain and sorrow searching for more
Cry for the touch of angels never before
And the stars fall on the horizon
Onwards and up through the pain

Ride the wind and fight the demon, steel shining bright Standing together forever onwards, flames burning strong

Hot wind in hell of pain and sorrow now and never onwards
We stare into the dawn of a new world

Cry out for the fallen heroes lost in time ago
In our minds they still belong
When the sands of time are gone!

Rise over shadow mountains blazing with power!
Crossing valleys, endless tears, in unity we stand
Far and wide across the land, the victory is ours
On towards the gates of reason
Fight for the truth and the freedom Gloria!

Searching through the memories to open the door
Living on the edge of life like never before
And the ground chant under the moonlight
Facing their fears all the same

Heavens fear now open wide and up for the call

All in stark reality the angels will fall
And the world cries out for the silence
Lost in the voices unknown

Blinded by the force of evil, cries into the night Never before have they seen the darkness now they are all gone

Out from the shadows storming on the wings of revelations
Your soul will feel no mercy come the dawn

Hold on for the morning after never to let go
In the fire's burning strong
When the tides of time roll on

Rise over shadow mountains blazing with power!
Crossing valleys, endless tears, in unity we stand
Far and wide across the land, the victory is ours
On towards the gates of reason
Fight for the truth and the fate of Gloria!

Cry out for the fallen heroes lost some time ago
In our minds they still live on
When the sands of time are gone!

Rise over shadow mountains blazing with power!
Crossing valleys, endless tears, in unity we stand
Far and wide across the land, the victory is ours
On towards the gates of reason
Fight for the truth and the fate of Gloria!
