Take You Back ,Take You Back
That was such a lie
Every time u said u love me
You can'y look me in my eyes
And I beg u for the truth
So much going thru my mind

And my father did just passed
To make my problems multiply
And I know nobody's perfect
But you finally crossed the line
And I gave u every thing
But u was never satisfied
And u said I was the one
Just like u told another five
Feel like its a competition
Against all these other guys

Texting me the other night
It's been too long
Always tyrna figure out, if imma move on
Staring at the ceiling , almost all night long
Prolly why I had the time
To write this song x2
