hey there material girl
The neighbors told me that you're moving out Leaving to witness the world But are you sure that's what you're doing now are you running away for a purpose Do you even know what your self worth is the past what you carry in your purses the gift in the curse when you going head first is the ATL, MIA, LAX, JFK luggage all packed and to them I say farewell to the pure, amen I pray

You wander the world
you seek what you've lost you're waking up every day the run away, run away girl I turn and your gone you're leaving to chase your fame the run away, the run away girl so long farewell

good bye
good day
be on your way
run away girl (x2)

Watching it all through the window and wishing you could make it shatter now now that you're here on the other side are you sure it even matters are you living the dream are you telling all your girls that it ain't what it seems do you strip do you model do you live in between and look for the split second that you get on the screen like

you seek what you lost
to run away, run away girl I turn and you're gone
you run away, run away girl

good day
be on your way
(x2)
