Wake up

It's time to get your things together

And drive away

Breathe out

You feel today it treats you better

That's what they say

Another day

Gone without a sound

But it's okay

If you turn around

And feel the memories bringin' you down

And in the end

Are you stronger

Do you no longer

Need to recover

And where have you been

Since it's been over

Over my shoulder

Under my skin

Will you ever return again...

Wake up

The monsters in your head have left you all to your self It's alright the fuggly little things around you of how it felt
Another day
No one tells you what it means whats in your way
poison in your dreams
the darkest place that you've ever been
And in the end
Are you stronger
Do you no longer
Need to recover
And where have you been
Since it's been over
Over my shoulder
Under my skin
Will you ever return again...

[guitar lick]

And in the end
Are you stronger
Do you no longer
Need to recover
And where have you been
Since it's been over
Over my shoulder

Under my skin

Will you ever return again...
