It was an accident
A silly old accident
Callous and reckless

I guess you could call me jealous
'Cause I still talk about you like you're mine
I guess you'll never really leave my mind
I suppose you're one of a kind
Something like the love of my life

Remember we used to stay up so late
Waiting for the sun to show her face
To bring some light into this too small place
You used to worry so much about my depression

And I know it's not easy because everyone else is a liar
but you know how to please me so set me on fire

It was an excuse
A pathetic excuse
So please excuse me
While I hide in my shell
And regardless of all my drugs
I still don't ever sleep enough
And when I don't manage to
????Shone right through?*

And you said it was important
So I learned how to ignore it
'Cause I really have no interest in saving her
So I'll be on my best behaviour

And I know it's not easy 'cause everyone else is a liar but you know how to tease me, come on, let me feel inspired

And I know it's not easy 'cause everyone else is a liar

Set me on fire
Set me on fire

*the song is by the drama escort, but this is when he changes and begins calling his project by his name, Aaron Shanley. So technically, this song is actually by Aaron Shanley, not the drama escort.
