This is my scenario
Phonograph and radio
I've written everything I know
That I have ever seen.
Get it started with a bang
Meet a pretty girl who sang
A famous song of love
At seventeen.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
Sister's in the everglades
Mother swallows razor blades
Father makes the flags for all
The Labor Day parades.
She hangs out at the five and ten
She dates a lot of married men
They take her out and wonder when
She'll sing that song again.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
This is my Scenario
Phonograph and radio
I've written everything I know
That I have ever seen.
Get it started with a bang
Meet a pretty girl who sang
A famous song of love
At seventeen.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
All alone in a bar room,
Alone in a bar room.
