Switch the children, watch the women scream
Listen to the big machine
Switch the children, watch the women scream
Listen to the big machine

Let's have a party, let's get some fireworks
Let's see if we can forget how the game goes

Marigolds gone to soldiers gone to seed
Listen to the big machine
Marigolds gone to soldiers gone to seed
Listen to the big machine

All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money can't burn your big machine

We wave our hands in bright white shades
We wave our flags, our billy clubs and spades

Help us now this is our hour of need
Listen to the big machine
Help us now this is our hour of need
[Incomprehensible] to the big machine

All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money can't burn your big
machine

Your big machine
Your big machine
Your big machine
Your big machine

All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money in the world
All the money, all the money can't burn your big
machine

Listen to the big machine

Listen to the big machine
(All the money, all the money in the world)
Listen to the big machine
(All the money, all the money can't burn your big machine)
[Incomprehensible] to the big machine

(All the money, all the money in the world)
Listen to the big machine
(All the money, all the money in the world)
Listen to the big machine

(All the money, all the money in the world)
Listen to the big machine
(All the money, all the money can't burn your big machine)
Listen to the big machine
