She looks good with a broken heart
She makes an easy mark
I hate to be rough
I like her so much
I don't know where to start
She looks good with her eyes red
Matches her long red dress
I like the way that she walks
The way she talks
No matter what she says

And you know I know my sugar
there's no one sweeter than you
And you know I know my sugar
that no one else would ever do
And she knows I need it
But I've had enough for now
She looks good with a broken heart

I like to see you fly
Up in the brooklyn sky
Don't slit your wrists
Don't jump off a bridge
It's gonna be alright

If you bring your love around
Don't bring me down
I like your face
You're such a waste
When you wear that frown

And you know I know my sugar
there's no one sweeter than you
And you know I know my sugar
that no one else would ever do
And she knows I need it
But I've had enough for now
And she knows I need it
But I've seen enough for now
She looks good with a broken heart

She's the best
She's my sunshine
My only sunshine
Shows me a good time
Show her my worse side

And you know I know my sugar
there's no one sweeter than you
And you know I know my sugar
that no one else would ever do
And she knows I need it
But I've had enough for now

Good with a broken heart
