Sat outside in the falling rain
I'm here again and I'll never let you down
Hold myself to the rising flame
I will rise again and I'll never let you down

I set myself on fire against the falling night
Set myself on fire so I could see the light
If I stand out in the open I can find my way
I'm hoping you can stay the night into the day

You are the sun, You are the moon
And I'll never let you down
You are the sun, You are the moon
And I'll never let you down
You are the sun, You are the moon

Girls get lost in the falling dark
But I hit my mark and I'll never let you down
Girls get lost but I found the road
I'm not alone and I'll never let you down.

I set myself on fire against the failing light
I set myself on fire so I could beat the night
If I stand out in the open I can find my way
I'm hoping you can stay the night into the day.

You are the sun, You are the moon
And I'll never let you down
You are the sun, You are the moon
And I'll never let you down
You are the sun, You are the moon
