"I will never"

A fever is burning inside of me
Deeper, I'm drifting into a sleep
I'm falling over the edge of the world
I'm screaming in vain 'cause my voice can't be heard

Is this the end of being, the end of all time?
It comes to us all no matter who you are

I'm bleeding, dripping my life away
My demons, came back to haunt me at last
I'm feeding, consuming my terminal breath
Gliding, is this a dream or my death?

Is this the end of being, the end of all time?
It comes to us all no matter who you are

Lying awake at night
Gazing into a candlelight
Watching the morning sun
I will never be the one
So cold in the autumn rain
Dreaming of life without this pain
A dream of the warming sun
But I will never be the one
