I'd make room for a piece like you in my headspace
Does she know or is she just slow on the uptake
I saw you looking good for two, singing woah-oh-oh-oh
Yes I'd make room for a bitch like you in my headspace

You'd look so good
We could look so happy
As a loveless couple with no innocence left

Do me a favour and open your eyes
Not looking for romance, ain't that a surprise
Yeah you don't need no personality
That doesn't matter now

I would switch to a different pitch for a knockout
Does she know it's a different show with the lights out
I saw her moving in a blur singing woah-oh-oh-oh
Yes I would switch to a bleach blonde bitch she's a knockout

You'd look so good
We could look so flashy
As a loveless couple with no innocence left

Do me a favour and open your eyes
Not looking for romance, ain't that a surprise
Yeah you don't need no personality
That doesn't matter now

You'd look so good
We could look so sorry
As a loveless couple with no innocence left

Do me a favour and open your eyes
Not looking for romance, ain't that a surprise
Yeah you don't need no personality
That doesn't matter now
