I was lost in a haze
Made of mistakes
Nothing right, not a light
In this darkness of hate
Tears and fear have trapped my mind
Down to the line I'm starting to crawl

Came to the court of king "Newlife The First"
Appeared an old man surrounded by light
Well he said "Shine! Burn high in the sky
Follow the smell of dreams in the air"

Hope was her name daughter of the king
Princess and fairy of all she creates
She fed my mind with shapeless desire
A new breeze of change starts to blow on my face

Faith to the unseen and shape for the things
Hidden beyond the shadows of time
Feeder of dreams, strength to endure
Leading the men through fields of despair

Vision that makes you follow the path
When everything seems to lead you astray
Climbing the walls, standing up tall
Breaking it all down, calling the brave

Ice in the desert, a face in the stone
Moonlight and sunlight, new power for the soul

Dance never ends, we dance every day
I asked her for love, she never turned away
Goddess of heaven came on the earth
To help every soul, showing the way

So she taught me how to survive
Eternal spring, enchanting the air
I dance every dance with a smile on my face
A beautiful hope I have on my mind
