"Sailors Of The Argo"

I am the heir of lolchus throne.
In my life there's just one goal.
I must retrieve my father's crown that my uncle once stole.
I must strive for it or fight untill I die.

I am the captain of this crowd who came from all Greece.
They're the bravest crew who ever sailed across these seas.
So many ventures we will find.
We'll face the hazard.
The sail is hoisted, the fifty oars are working hard.

We're sailing through the raging seas questing for the Golden Fleece.
