I was looking down at you smiling up at me
For once I held you tight, but shadowed hands grabbed at me
You're head was in the clouds, now those clouds are in your head
That's when you needed me, so I listened to want you said

Look another year went by,
They keep passing by,
God damn I didn't even die,
Too old and slow I've grown,
I fought time but lost

It was love like a callas you scarred enough to be Tough and immune, your body adapts you see
To all above my head, and all below my feet
No that's one freedom you'll never take from me

Look another year went by,
They keep passing by,
God damn I didn't even die,
Too old and slow I've grown,
I fought time but lost

To criticize and judge, how did I end up here,
With these standards I'm supposed to love, make me
disappear.

Hold tight, hold tight

To criticize and judge, how did I end up here,
disappear.
To criticize and judge, how did I end up here,
With these standards I'm supposed to love make me
disappear.

Hold tight, hold tight, hold tight, hold tight
Look another year went by
Hold tight, hold tight, hold tight, hold tight
