Don't put your hands on the stair
It may not let you go down
Drowning tomorrow
Drowning tonight

Don't tell me what I should be
I swear I'll be it for miles
Just like the start
Just like I gave you

Time to break my head in two
So you can see

Could you stand there all alone?
Could you fake a smile
To call your own?
And let it lead the way
We try to get along

In the dark we find a hole
In the rain we're drowning all alone
Could you be the one
Who's getting me down?

A fire will never cease
A stranger's giving will not
Taste my desire
Feels like deceit

Don't take your hands off the wheel
This road will lead us to strive
Fly us for miles
And turn out the lights
That blind the movements we have made
So we can't see

Could you stand there all alone?
Could you fake a smile
To call your own?
And let it lead the way
We try to get along

In the dark we find a hole
In the rain we're drowning all alone
Could you be the one
Who's getting me down?

Could you stand there all alone?
Could you fake a smile
To call your own?
And let it lead the way
We try to get along

In the dark we find a hole
In the rain we're drowning all alone
Could you be the one
Who's getting me down?
