You underestimated me
I want to let you know
There's nothing you can say to me
That I don't already know
You swear you never meant it
It's just the evidence and how it was presented
So what do you take me for?
The case is closed, I'm better alone

You had it all
Picture perfect, must have meant nothing at all
This changes everything

If I could just rewind and replay
There'd be no white out on the flashback
I wouldn't change anything

The truth is not commodity
It is not priced to sell
Your words do not ring true to me
They taste of someone else
I'll try to avoid communication lines
Call me later, it's just code for
The feeling's gone, I'm finding the door

You had it all
Picture perfect, must have meant nothing at all
This changes everything

If I could just rewind and replay
There'd be no white out on the flashback
I wouldn't change anything

Calm down, take a breath
Realize nothing's left
She's gone, I'm not waiting

You had it all
Picture perfect, must have meant nothing at all
This changes everything

If I could just rewind and replay
There'd be no white out on the flashback
I wouldn't change anything

If I could just rewind and replay
There'd be no white out on the flashback
I wouldn't change anything
