This blinding hallway
c'mon c'mon
the feeling lonely im off, i'm on its like my head's full of water drowning out sound and innocence this puddle jump had seemed much shorter from the edge

im not sure to what degree i've found the things i need taking my spot in line ill take this days of long grief if it's someday relieved it never ends

youre telling me, telling me everything my future wants from me ill be up when the fight breaks out, ill be up when the fight's out you're telling me, you're telling me of possibilities ill be up when the fight breaks out i will be heard

my every word
c'mon c'mon
i wont stay in the water if im just gonna drown in it its time you know that i will float in anything the world is staring, i stutter to focus i bite my lip until the lights go on as they're staring im starting to focus ill shut them up with a scream
