I just met Huston
He was looking for your door
He said he'd like to buy a horse I saw he had a map of the county in his hand and your house was circled red took the keys too damn far to go back by no, Huston needs a ride

You just missed Huston
He was looking so confused I guess he really needed you He was overtired and looking for the truth i guess old Huston's got the blues

took the keys too damn far to go back by i promised huston i'd try you aint given up on looking for your theme even if you probably should i'm sorry huston, i aint got what you need but i promise you, i'd help you if i could

took the keys too damn far to go back by
