I know your Daddy hates me
And I got a room in hell reserved
I know he wants to kill me
And it's the least that I deserve

But I always loved his daughter
That's something that I know you know
Just sometimes don't do what I ought to Sometimes I yes when I should no

I know your Daddy hates me
And I drink more than a whale
But my failures ain't for lack of trying
It's just a little too late now to prevail

But you always knew I was a screw up
Long before I screwed us up
You said it endeared you to me
But in the end you just gave up

And I always loved your Daddy
I loved your Mama even more
And I always loved their daughter
That's for sure

And I know your Daddy hates me
I know I'd probably hate me too
But, I also know you don't hate me
Even though you'd probably like to and ought to

It's a little too late for writing love songs
But I never did anything on time
Happiness on your big adventure
See you darling down the line

And I always loved your Daddy
I loved your Mama even more
And I always loved their [Incomprehensible]
That's for sure

Now I always loved your Daddy
I loved your Mama even more

And I always loved their daughter
That's for sure
