She looks good, when she turns to walk away.
He's got the fire, but he don't know what to say.
So they walk on by, never speaking a word.
And live life alone everyday.

A boy on the south-side, waiting for his ride.
Shot in the head for looking up too high.
His mama cried and his daddy just said.
The boy was gonna be a star.

(Chs)-Your alive and then your dead,
Life is like a train running over your head.

An old man dies alone in his bed.
No one cries and no ones even sad.
Never got to see his blood run cold.
Switched the tracks alone before the tunnel ahead.

Gotta live your life live it day to day.
And try to have a little fun along the way.
Don't miss the time or then you'll say.
Should have had more fun back in my day.
