Take some time.
Cuz sadly knots are actually not capable of Breaking off what they've held strong
For years too long.
You're an up and overkill conduit.
You won't be tricked into tasting salt.
Make myself at home but you're onto it.
Sell me your career.
The checkmate comes but once a year.

The hardest part of holding on to future worth the pacing
Is you can't expect a visit from the boy you left waiting.

Dig, Dig. The core. No one needs this more.
You're hosting the party standing guard at the door.
Faces hide in frame that line askew design.
You're and up and overkill conduit.
You won't be tricked into tasting salt.
Make myself at home but you're onto it.
Sell me your career.
The checkmate comes but once a year.

The hardest part of holding on to future worth the
pacing
Is you can't expect a visit from the boy you left waiting.

Is this goodbye or just an offering?
If you say so.
I'm out the window.
If you're something let me know.
