You're walking the delight road
To melt into that
Pleasure chord, you said
To teach a lot with what you were
Respecting friends
And taking care of them

Time too short to bury your
Good gifts and strength - keep you alive at all
A bit in you a bit in me
Together to eternity we said

You won't fade

A look up there a look inside
A stone to touch, a tear to hide the pain
Buddies talk about destiny
Excusing faults that cannot be redeemed

The train has left, the shot is done
The time is lost
The game of life goes on
Your curtain falls
We're calling on
Still hoping, but no encore comes at all

I feel clean inside

Man, I lost you
That gap hurts deep inside
Man, I'm calling for you again

Fore sure you're in for better times
To take seat were you belong and then
Keep some place in your own line
Remember us, we'll follow in the end

Do you taste, do you still feel
The cold, the heat, the love and hate around
Just send little signs to me
If things are still as they have been before
