verse1

There was a time when I used to run away anytime I started to fall 'cause love's never been very kind to me no baby not very kind at all until you stole my heart away somehow you helped restore my faith in something I thought wasn't for me now it comes so easily because I love you

hook

You're the flame that sets my soul on fire that special girl I prayed for every night that pretty melody that plays over and over again in my head
forever stare at you and never get tired honey I'm ready to spend my whole life with you because I love you
yes I do

I never thought in a million years that I could feel the way that I feel, no how I get butterflies whenever your lips touch mine I must confess my dear that it was instantly, right from the start a special bond between you and my heart how it skips a beat whenever our eyes meet and simply said the reason being

repeat hook

bridge

Girl I know there'll be differences we have along the way where our views may not always be the same but I swear I'll try to hear out your side and compromise 'cause I've realized that with you I want to spend my life
