The things I do
Showing no respect
But can I do
There is nothing for me to correct
And the things that you say
Shows me its time to turn you away

And now its time to show them what we got
Even though what we have isn't a whole lot
But it still makes me proud of who I am,
Because it shows you that I am still a man.

I hit people every day
No reason just because feel like it
And I don't care what you say
So just get your ass down and sit.

The world feels like hell
But I will still go through
Just to get my hands
Over around you

And now its time to show them what we got
Even though what we have isn't a whole lot
But it still makes me proud of who I am,
Because it shows you that I am still a man.

And now its time to show them what we got
What?
Even though what we have isn't a whole lot
What?
But it still makes me proud of who I am,
What?
Because it shows you that I am still a man.
