80 proof is no excuse,
an apology so insincere, out of your mouth,
we sing out loud for everyone to hear.
(and I heard)

But in my own defense, I feel I've been more than patient, the one thing that I can't stand, is the fact you show no remorse or class, enough to own up to this mistake.
(it's your mistake)

Words fell short,
as your lies grew stronger and through it all I always loved her when you think things are getting better, remember we're best friends for never,
because of this I'm so much stronger, took a while but I moved on,
so when you think things are getting better,
remember we're best friends for never.

Don't initiate a conversation, that instigates a confrontation, I found a new best friend in hatred, that says it's too damn late to save this, you're so good at making bad decisions, but even better at burning bridges, knowing everything that I know now, I never would have put the fire out.
I'd rather watch you choke on the smoke, from the flames,
until I know that only ashes remain.
(ashes remain)

Words fell short,
as your lies grew stronger,
through it all I always loved her
when you think things are getting better,
remember we're best friends for never,
because of this I'm so much stronger,

took a while but I moved on,
so when you think things are getting better,
remember we're best friends for never.

When I gave an inch, you'd take the mile,
if I gave it you'd take it, you claim to be the story, and that's all you'll ever be, just a page in your own diary, that ain't that great to read.

Words fell short,
through it all I always loved her
when you think things are getting better,
remember we're best friends for never,
because of this I'm so much stronger,
took a while but I moved on,
so when you think things are getting better,
remember we're best friends for never,
remember we're best friends for never.
