We are holding up a torch
Lit only by beliefs
Which hold us to the ground
To tied up to be knocked down
Give something more than words
Breathe deeper than before
Choose knowledge over ignorance
So you know what you're fighting for

Chorus

We waited far too long
And turned our heads away
It's easy to hide
If we could hear a song
And see beyond the grey
Than we'd be justified

Break down the old defenses
Stand up because the end is coming fast
And nothing lasts
Show the strength of people
Who are thinking for themselves
'Cause I'm sick of leaning against the wall
When the tide's coming in
And it's all about too fall

Chorus

We'd be justified
Yeah

Chorus

We waited far too long (We waited far too long)
And turned our heads away
It's easy to hide
If we could hear a song (Hear a song)
And see beyond the grey
Than we'd be justified (Now)
