I give up
Said the broken man Im out of luck, and I'm down again Should I try and put up a fight?
Should I Tly and say everythings all right?

Well it costs too much to sing the same angry song
When the outcome is always the same
One taste of your touch
Put me right back on top
Put my world back on its feet again

Am I wrong,
To be an angry man?
Am I strong,
because I have a plan?
Am I high,
on the morals of the rest of the world Or am I, just another soul, another man looking for a place to rest his head
I'm looking for a place to rest my head

Well it costs too much
when the outcome is always the same
one taste of your touch
put me right back on top
put my world back on its feet again
