

Drowning Fish "Goodbye"

You didn't even call me up
To say you weren't gonna bother showing up
I can't believe you stood me up
Girl how could you have been so mean
Don't you know you were my queen
You've always been my precious dream
Day and night and in my dreams too
I can't escape the thought of you
A million wishes all shot to bits
And you don't care at all
No you don't care at all

When I call you never have time to talk
It's always "I'm busy, call me back"
All I wanted was to say hello
The wicked games you played with my heart
Lifted me high, just to throw me down hard
Fed me hope, just to tear it apart

Day and night and in my dreams too
I can't escape the thought of you
A million wishes all shot to bits
And you don't care at all
No you don't care at all

It's taken years, but I've finally got myself back together
Broken free from the shackles you've imprisoned me in Bandaged my heart, and now it's healed as new again
I'm happy to say I'm over you

Wherever your life should lead you
I wish you well, and maybe someday we'll meet again
For now so long, bon voyage-no hard feelings towards you

It was a blast, an experience, and part of growing up
But now my bags are packed, and my one way ticket's been bought
And now it's over, and I say to you for the first time
Goodbye
