You have not the passion
And I am not a fool
You practice no discretion
You learned it all from school

Tell me what your heart says
Tell me what you feel
I'm Sure it doesn't matter
It probably never will

You have always taught me
Nothing here is real
You teach me how to murder
You show me how to steal

And I, I will never understand

You have always taught me
Nothing here is real
You teach me how to murder
You show me how to steal
You borrow up my patience
Return to me your vice
You thought I'd never catch you
You thought I'd never die

And I

You are telling me to stay
I'll get there another way
You will take me by the hand
And I will never understand
You will cut me with your lies
And I will stab you with my eyes
You will play me for the fool
And I will always stay with you

And I, I will never understand
