"The Way He Feels"

You know he feels
And you rub it in his face
He tells you how he feels
But you just laugh
And walk away
Well all your friends and you
You talk behind his back
But that wont change
The way he feels
He'll feel the same
He feels the same
You can't rob him of that
He feels the same
He'll Always feels the same
He'll never change
The way he feels about you
It's just the way
He feels about you [3x]
You can step all over him
You can stab him in the back
You can rub his face in the ground
But he's still come around
He'll never give
No he'll never give any slack
You got to admit
Persistence he doesn't lack
