What does it take,
to say those...

What does it take to say those Three simple words with conviction?

What force drives you?
And which one drives me?
What force?

And I realize that love
Can make you feel so high and low
You've got me wrapped around in chains

All these things happen to a man

Only one person
Only one person
Only one person
Only one person

One person who will always be here

I wont calm down

At least I learned something new
To improve.
