It's been a week, it seemed like a year
I think of you, I wish you were here
I care for you and times for long
We can fly but we get along
If only time would stop when I'm with you
This is not a fairy tale, this is something I can do
Let me hold you just once again
I guess I could cry, and I can pretend something

There's always something left to do
I miss you so
I must confess
Find the street the moon
Get me out of this mess

Stay close to me
'Cause you're far, I can't stand
I'm living a dream
This is like heaven in my head
Don't look me that way
'Cause I am not that fool
I'm just lost for words
So I just say I love you

Another day that passed so slow
Many thoughts that come and go
I don't know what I'll say to you
I'm sure you feel the same way too
When life would seem a little less insane
If I could be right to you and fly away on a plane
Let me kiss you just once again
Feels so good, I don't have to pretend something

I miss you so
I must confess
Find the street to the moon
Get me out of this mess

Stay close to me
Cause you're far I can't stand
Im living a dream
This is like heaven in my head
Don't look me that way
Cause I am not that fool
I'm just lost for words
So I just say I love you

Something left to say
There's always something left to do
I miss you so
I must confess

Stay close to me
Im living a dream
Cause I am not that fool
I'm just lost for words
So I just say I love you
