"Stuck In Me"

Can you remember that
What the hell could it be
Can you remember what you said
Can you remember me
'Cause sometimes when I'm alone
I cry just thinking of you
If only I could just forget it
Maybe that's what I should do
Cause you hug me and you cry
All the tears were just so stare
And you said we were so special
Just before you left me there
Still remember what you said
We were special, that's right
It was such a perfect day
Can't wait for you another night

And I cry and I fail
All the memories seem so useful
We cannot die we cannot build
I don't care, you're still so beautiful
Never tought that I could feel this
Never tought about us too
I've wasted all, so it seems
Can't believe that this could be true

I know you'll be there
You should know you can trust me too
Nothing seems like when you're gone
So I just wanna be with you
And please listen I know
You'll understand what I'm saying
Cause I know when I met you
All my problems started fading
I swear you could hear this
I'm still trying to get you there
I really had to do it
No matter how no matter where
'Cause everyone is happy
And everyone is having fun
This is like a dream and it has just begun

And I cry and I fail
All the memories seem so useful
We cannot die we cannot build
I don't care, you're still so beautiful
Never tought that I could feel this
Never tought about us too
I've wasted all, so it seems
Can't believe that this could be true

I knew it from the begining
I hope now you can see
That all those feelings were there
Just there stuck in me

And I cry and I fail
All the memories seem so useful
We cannot die we cannot build
I don't care, you're still so beautiful
Never tought that I could feel this

Never tought about us too
I've wasted all and so it seems
Can't believe this could be true
I don't care, you're still so beautiful (x2)
