A different side of me
I never let you see
I never really thought that I would ever want to be
A secret millionaire
A troubled billionaire
I cannot understand just why life is so unfair
I have a feeling that I can't control
Your face is on a picture hanging in my soul

I'm someone that you always new
And I think that you should see it too
And now what you're starting to see
Is a different side of me

It's like a fantasy
A different side of me
You know exactly what I know and it's impossibly
True
I know you
And the life you're living is the reason why I'm always blue
I have a feeling that I can't control
You're face is on a picture hanging in my soul

I'm someone that you always new
And I think that you should see it too
And now what you're starting to see
Is a different side of me

I'm someone that you always new
And I think that you should see it too
And now what you're starting to see
Is a different side of me
