Once again I've taken just the wrong way out
And we can't turn back the clocks
Because your wrongs were my rights and it led to all the fights
And the only way to deal with this
Was just to move on

And we've gone our separate paths and Our friendship never lasts

Because we're trying so hard now, that I forgot we're we start now
You know I'm playing the chord straight from the heart
Take away the pain and make it better

Out with the old and in with the new Roses are red and violets are blue
But there's got to be a contrast in the middle Because I know as I turn my way
That's it's impossible not stay
But you question things and look for the best
And no you're not something new you're just like the rest
Can I get you to move closer this just isn't bring closure

Because we're trying so hard now, that I forgot we're we
You know I'm not playing the chord this is straight from the heart
Take away the pain and make it better

Because we're trying so hard now, that I forgot we're we
start now
You know I'm not playing the chord this is straight from
the heart
Take away the pain and make it better

And I'll see what you don't, and I know you get through
And I won't waste all my doubts

Take away the pain and make it better, take away the pain and make it better

Because I'm trying so hard, I forgot were we start
I'm not playing the chord this is straight from the heart
Take away the pain and make it better
