What's your story, morning glory?
What makes you look so blue?
The way that you've been acting, I don't know what to do
For I love you, sure as one and one makes two

What's your story, morning glory?
Got a feeling, there's a lot you're concealing
So won't you tell me that you love me too?

What's your story, morning glory?
You've got me worried too
A postman came this morning and left a note for you
Did you read it? Then you know that I love you

What's your story, morning glory?
If I guess it darlin', will you confess it?
Oh, won't you tell me that you love me too?

Oh, won't you tell me that you love me too?
What's your story, morning glory?
