If I crack up and lose my head try to hide beneath the bed and leave the television on so I don't think of what's gone wrong ...

I beg of the dawn

Break through, save me, rescue me, wake me from the dead
my weary head in your embrace

If I spin out and off the rails build myself a bed of nails then take the whole world down with me to my dimstore tragedy ...

Where will you be?

Break through, heal me sing to me, kneel beside my bed
my weary head in your embrace

Wake up, sunrise
I may be alone but I'm alive
(and) I will find a way to you

Sunrise, save me this time you never even had to try you opened up my eyes

Sunrise, treat me so kind
I was lost ... I was blind
(and) you opened up my eyes
