Just let me go
I'll be better than before
In this town there's no one to adore
And I won't belong to no one

Just let me go
There is nothing here and I feel
That back home there's no one who is real
I won't belong to no one

Please bring me back
Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't belong

It was the place
That never made you see
What life brought holding back the key
To the youth that we should have lived

I'm letting loose
Of everything I've known
Jump up, will time give me a home?
And a youth that I'm about to live

Bring me back
Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't belong

Would you please bring me back
Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't belong

Please bring me back
Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't belong

Would you please bring me back

Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't belong

Please bring me back
Please bring me back
To the town where I was born
To the town where I don't, where I don't belong
