The shadow's creeping, only one way left to go*
You hit the bottom where the silence only grows
It's never alone

You feel the fire burning sweet within your skin
You're holding on to all the branches crashing in

It's pulling you in

But you feel the light shine so bright
But you feel the light shine so bright

What is the purpose if you feel so incomplete
What is the reason if it beats you to your knees
What do you keep

Your eyes were wide but there's a world that keeps you blind

A painted serpent turning water into wine

Seeking light

But you feel the light shine so bright
But you feel the light shine so bright

You're begging for the truth but now you've seen too much
You're living in your head but never feel their touch
And everything was buried by the deep blue sky

Help me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna see the light
Just tell me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna be denied
Just tell me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna be denied

Catch on fire
Catch on fire
Catch on fire
