(Le Bon, Rhodes, Taylor, Taylor, Taylor)

Today, riding the slow train along the way going to who knows where and who knows when not knowing where you're rolling - it's the learning of this journey

I feel if all of you people gather and believe being what makes you breathe in is enough promise to carry on from each moment to the next one

These beautiful colours, infinite patterns so hard I see
And if we're all of the same stuff there's not one of you who is the same as me Woah, beautiful colours, indifferent for you to see Sometimes the beauty of it all seems unbearable 'til the colours bleed
(keep breathing...)

Design - everyone's their own universe besides - life is a standard issue to customize Ashes to understanding is the nature of existence

These beautiful colours, infinite patterns so hard I see

and if we're all of the same stuff there's not one of you is the same as me Proud beautiful colours, indifferent for you to see sometimes the beauty of it all seems unbearable 'til the
colours bleed
(keep breathing...)

Keep breathing
Keep loving

These beautiful colours, infinite patterns are what I see and now if we're all of the same blood there's not one of you is the same as me Crowds of beautiful colours, indifferent to what you believe
sometimes the beauty of it all seems unbearable 'til the
colours bleed

Keep breathing
Keep loving
