Time will see, we're not searching for a wild excuse
To put emotion back on hold
Too much has gone down, we know what you're doing
But do you feel the same way?

You look sharp inside your pointed shoes
I have this picture hanging in my room
But I refuse to take you down or shake you down
We could bring you gently round

If that's what you choose for a point of view
I think you'll find it's true
These words are like sand just get blown away
All the things we'd like to say

We need you
We need you
(We need you)
We need you
(We need you)

We need you
(We need you)
We need you
(We need you)
We need you
(We need you)
We need you
