We came to give love to our die hearted real bitches that stick through they man through the bullshit good lovin and good fuckin all night long, what makes a young killa feel strong (you know) you from black thongs to black [stem hope] you know with a lifestyle bigger than don knockers, with a left hand body guard like john rocker kill the cracka, you served pain but that didn't stop ya offered the money, gotsta prosper blame me for the babies we kill, aint that ill, im the one who wants to go to hell with it and i'm [and i'm hoping to kinda self finish]

held closely by a stranger father Dear (i know you want to touch me) well if you hear me (you know you want to touch me)
well if you hear me (i want you to kiss me)
well if you hear me (but why can't you love me) i've been held, closely by a stranger she moved above the law, 50 gs in the floor type to bring with me a key right to her door waiting [for drugs law], livin the china white if you got her high enough you could fuck her with a stick of dynamite tie her up [smack her], have your way i met her wednesday had that by saturday she was half black, born in south korea raised in an orphanage, the men would often come to see her the nuns didn't stop the soldiers from raping her which is why she had panic attacks like kim bassinger months went by, i heard she put bass [in the store, lit it with a stove] stole all the crates and a soul, I saw it in her face she was losing control confused in her role, the cash flow disintegrated like her ass yo she fell victim, to the rotten apple say goodbye [to the boss, kingpin wants a divorce] she was diagnosed with cancer, heard it from the source

now she [wanders] from, manger to manger, looking to be held

well if you hear me (you know you want to touch me)
well if you hear me (but why can't you love me)

saw me running through, gun [in]side your face [goose]
saw what the struggle do, i mean you act like your fake friends is lovin you they undress in front of me and im uncomfortable figure i'll just come to you, and try to confide but then I start thinking about the last time you lied don't care what you got to hide what i saw burned my eyes like chloride all i wanna know is why, i wasn't even tryin to spy come home [dice for bed stop] all inside should have known, all you did was was pull me down i should have grown, canceled the mortgage on the home [dead to me saying your fault], I let you roam now i gotsta leave you alone harsh reality is the case like when you spit in the wind, it might come back in your face
i just came to get my shit, no anger you was the one kissing a stranger

father Dear
well if you hear me
i said father dear
i said father dear
well if you hear me
