I saw my girl, she was hanging
By a thread, she was gone
Left a note, wrote in crayon
Saying, "So long, death lives on"
I really thought that she loved me
Because we've had so much fun
Now I'm living on the run, looking out for number one

I took a ride to the city
Had to get out of this town
My little girl looked so pretty
When they laid her in the ground
Her daddy said he don't like me
But he don't like anyone
And now I'm living on the run, looking out for number one

I had a drink at the station
Had to get out of my head
Saw my face on a TV
Wanted dead was all it said
Now my life could be ending
When it's only just begun
And now I'm living on the run, looking out for number one

One day she - laughed at me
And left me dunder-hearted
L.A.P.D. is after me
Let's get this party started

I'm looking out for number one
