I would stay here with you longer
But I've got no room to grow
And the room is getting smaller
And the work I heard said "Go... go" ...
So I'm gonna go now,
I want you to know how
Much I have gained from you here
Ohhhh the last three years
I would turn back in a heartbeat
If I felt like things could change,
But I cannot bend this elbow
And it's cutting off the blood flow
Start me feeling strange... strange... strange
So I'm gonna go now,
I want you to know how
Much I have gained from you here
Ohhhh the last three years
I will see you when we get there
And we will stand side by side
Having entered through the same door
We will be divided no more
Unaccompanied by pride, pride
So I'm gonna go now,
I want you to know how
Much I have gained from you here
Ohhhh the last three years
