If words were all it took to save someone,

I would have said more of them to you.

But words just didn't seem,

To do the job somehow.

And now time is gone,

And the morning is here.

I tried to warn you,

About the coming of the dawn.

But now time is gone,

And the morning is here.

Well I tried to warn you,

About the coming of the dawn.

But now time is gone,

And the morning is here.

Yeah time is gone...
