

Duvall

"Where I Belong"

Visit "Where I Belong" on MotoLyrics.com

Just like planes in the night as they're flying by
I made wishes on lights in a darkened sky.
And I cried without nothing to hold onto
Without light in the world until you
Broke through and shined on me.

I know that you're the only hope, I'm found in you now.
I know the word you've spoken is forever true now.
I've waited all my life for love so strong
And now I know where I belong.

I know where I belong.

And of all of the things I most greatly feared,
Holding onto my life as it disappeared.
And I cried: "Is there something someone can do?"
I heard nothing at all until you
Came through and called on me.

I know that you're the only hope, I'm found in you now.
I know the word you've spoken is forever true now.
I've waited all my life for love so strong
And now I know where I belong.

And I cried without nothing to hold onto
Without light in the world until you
Broke through and shined on me.

I know that you're the only hope, I'm found in you now.
I know the word you've spoken is forever true now.
I've waited all my life for love so strong
And now I know where I belong.

I know where I belong.

Visit Duvall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.